STAFF AND FOREWORD

Progress is a dynamic affair.

The basic standard and spirit of Bridgewater should remain unchanged, but in all other ways thoughtful innovation and advancement are inevitable and desirable qualities of progress.

We have paralleled this thought as the theme of the 1958 edition of the Alpha. It is the strong desire of the staff that it will serve as a collection of pleasant memories of your years at Bridgewater.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Members of the Class of 1958

I appreciate deeply the invitation of the Alpha Board to extend to you the good wishes of the administration and the faculty as you arrive at the fateful turning of the road. For four years you "have fought the good fight, you have run the course, you have kept the faith". May the years ahead be rewarding, may every difficulty have its compensating advantage!

The world may not be your oyster, but it is certainly vantage ground for you who have put on the buckler of hope, and the armor of excellent preparation, clear thinking and good will.

Bridgewater's thoughts go with you; her motherly concern for your well being walks by your side; and her prayers in your behalf are your constant assurance. Your goodness, your successes and your zeal for your work are her care and her glory.

The future belongs to those who prepare for it! If this is true, the future is yours; use it for the good of the people you serve and the promotion of your happiness. Only then, will generations bless you and hold your name in blessed memory.

Cordially,

Clement Graywell
